A unique new way to be a healthier new you

The Body Energy Concept – an hour away from the start of a whole new you.

The Body Energy Concept treats a whole range of health and emotional problems by boosting your body energy.

Body energy is essential for the effective working of your body systems and organs – the more energy you have, the better your body will function.

Your body energy is boosted using a specially developed range of state-of-the-art equipment and tried and tested techniques, which have been researched over the last 40 years.

This unique treatment starts taking effect after just one hour.

This is a safe, non-invasive way to get healthy, offered by trained Body Energy Practitioners (all members of the British Register of Complementary Practitioners.)

How does this exciting new treatment work?

Once you are relaxed and sitting comfortably (wearing loose-fitting clothes will help), your practitioner will stimulate key energy points in your body using special vacuum pads attached to a hi-tech Body Energy machine (see picture). These pads are repositioned until all the energy points relating to your problem have been re-energised. During this treatment you will be asked in-depth questions about your symptoms of ill-health and your lifestyle. This enables the practitioner to create the perfect lifestyle plan to change your future health.

Is there any other treatment involved?

For most people, the Body Energy machine and lifestyle plan are all that's needed to bring you back to perfect health. But if you have any injuries then special magnets and manual compression may be used to eliminate muscle pain.

How many sessions will I need?

You will begin to feel the benefits of your Body Energy treatment after just one hour. But we recommend five to ten regular sessions, followed by maintenance sessions when needed, to really set you on the road to perfect health.

How will I know if Body Energy Treatment can help me?

Just look at this list of health problems that the Body Energy Concept has successfully solved. If you suffer from any of these ailments, or even just feel run down and don't know why, make an appointment with a Body Energy practitioner and discover this unique new way to better health.

From Patient to Practitioner

How Body Energy Treatment changed Yvonne Watkins' health, and her life!

Having discovered the Body Energy Concept whilst looking for a cure for her young son's severe abdominal pains, Yvonne Watkins went on to feel the benefits for herself after a whiplash injury and saw her husband's old knee injury remedied by this unique therapy.

She was so impressed with her family's return to health that she decided to train to become a Body Energy Practitioner.

And now, by combining the special energy-balancing techniques she has learnt with advice on diet and lifestyle, Yvonne is helping others feel as good as she does – thanks to The Body Energy Concept.

This is just one of the thousands of testimonies we have to prove the success of Body Energy. Try the concept for yourself and tell us how it's helped to change your life.
